

Very simple. When my telephone rings, it should be from family and friends only. If I want to buy a product, I will call them, they should not call me.